ADD TO BEAUTY OF EARTH

Writer's Tribute to the Tree Is Worthy of Remembrance Throughout the Ages.

Oh! Don Pepino, old trees in their fiving state are the only things that money cannot command. Rivers leave their beds, run into cities and travers mountains for it; obelisks and arche palaces and temples, amplitheater and pyramids rise up like exhabition at its bidding; even the free spirit of man, the only thing great on earth crouches and cowers in its presenceit passes away and vanishes befor venerable trees. . . . How many for and how many lively thoughts have been nurtured under this tree! how many kind hearts have beaten here! Its branches are not so numerous as the couples they have invited to alt beside it, nor its blossoms and leaves togethe as the expressions of tenderness has witnessed. What appeals to th pure, all-seeing heavens! what simil ltudes to the everlasting mountains what protestations of eternal truth and constancy!-from those who ar now earth; they and their shreeand their coffins. All Went to Weer Gowgs. The craze for logal gouns, says Calcutta newspaper, has now spreto the mukhteers of Bengel. A few years ago vakils obtained permission to wear gowns. Black gowns were suggested by vakils but as these would have led to their being mistaken for members of the bar, blue gowns were given them. Recently the pleaders asked that the privilege of wearing gowns should be extended to them and the necessary sanction was granted green being the color selected. Not to be outdone the mukhtears are now moving in the matter and the initia tive has been taken by those practic ing in the Jalpaiguri courts who have petitioned the registrar on the appel late side of the Calcutta high court to be allowed to wear gowns. The color suggested is chocolate. The matter is under consideration by the chief justice.

The Word "Stunt." A "stunt" is a feat or performance striking for the strength or skill required for its accomplishment; hence it has come to mean any real feat The word has made its way into both Webster and the New Standard die tionary, but neither states its origin. Webster suggests a comparison with the old word "stint," which means "a task." It is interesting to note that obsolete provincial English had a word "stunt" which meant "dull" or Diversified Farming. The farmers raise so many crops, the harvest season never stops. They're always reaping oats or hay, or putting winter wheat away; alfalfa helps to pay their cebts, and keep the world in cigaretts, and they have corn and Johngrass, and sorghum rape and garden there'll be divers kinds of wheat; the oats may languish in the rain, but there'll be lots of other grain. The cockle burs may pine away, but there'll be stacks of luscious hay. The Western farmers used to raise but little else than yellow maize, and if their crop they chance to lose, in winter time they ate their shoes. Crop failure meant a famine them: the fields were full of hungry men. But now the corn may die the death, may wither in the hot wind's breath and still the farmers tool their cars, and smoke the crimson-band Steam and Hot Water Heating cigars, and take to town the shining bones and buy a peck of shining stones.
